- ♦ No birthdays this week

It was our first full week back at school and haven't the children done well! They may well be a little tired this weekend, but have an extra day to recover. Lots has happened in the classrooms. Reception have enjoyed many new experiences in school this week. They excitedly visited the library for the first time on Tuesday and had lots of fun playing games during their first ever PE lesson on Thursday. Over the course of the week, the children have read 'The invisible string' and made some special hearts in class which represent the people they love. What a great first full week, well done Reception! Year 1 have had a lovely week revising number bonds to 5 in maths and telling stories based on family settings. They made wonderful junk model creations as part of their first RE lessons and have been discussing how Dropmore can be a calm and safe space for them. Year 2 have started learning about writing letters and postcards and have written a postcard to King Charles III. In Maths they have been learning about place value and reminding ourselves of the difference between tens and ones. In PSHE we talked about worries and how best to deal with them. In their topics work, KS1 (Year 1 & Year 2) have been introduced to the famous paleontologist, Mary Anning. They compared their fossil hunting to Mary Anning's experiences and wrote about their own searching. Sadly a car was broken into during the afternoon school run on Thursday. These criminals know that parents quickly nip out of their cars to collect their children, often leaving bags, mobiles and other items of interest in the car unattended. So please do not leave any valuables in your car, anytime you park along the road or in the pub car parks. On a brighter note, I am so pleased and proud to share with you that we have been awarded Platinum Travel Plan. Special thanks to Mrs Hasted and Miss Roberts for their contribution to this achievement. Have a wonderful weekend.
